

the wine

The Book says “the apple tempted eve”, our book says, “it must have been the grape”.
frivolous, intense, sexy, dirty, crisp, full-bodied, light-bodied, fruity, earthy, cherry, blackberry, grapefruit, apple, dry, oaky.
those are just a few descriptors used for the juice.

from wines that pair naturally with our food,
to the wines that steal the show...

from around the world and our own backyard...

food and wine pairing

contrasts are a beautiful thing, i.e. complex with simple, spicy with sweet, salty with fruity.

but sometimes similar comparisons are the way to go,
i.e. tangy with tangy, earthy with earthy, sweet with sweeter.

have fun with this, as rules are meant to be...

corkage policies

no corkage on the first 750ml bottle—if we don't carry that special wine, bring it in.

the bordeaux region of france is split into two banks, right and left—sound familiar? the left bank wines are dominated by cabernet sauvignon and offer a touch more power and robust qualities, while on the right bank we tend to find softer, more approachable merlot-based blends.

outside of france, wines fashioned in the style of bordeaux are referred to as “meritage” (rhymes with heritage) or “claret”. they employ the following traditional grapes: cabernet sauvignon, merlot, cabernet franc, malbec and petit verdot. below are wines using two or more of these grape varieties.

In australia, and sometimes south africa, syrah is referred to as shiraz, but the grape is the same—

the name difference stems from a disagreement concerning origin and maybe a little bit of a personality conflict...same grape, but often a different style—a little more jammy fruit down under.
