ITALIAN

Italy is responsible for about one-fifth of the world's wine production (which comes to about 8 billion bottles a year, give or take...). No other country on earth has the variety of indigenous grape varieties as found in Italy, either. (Several hundred have been "officially" cataloged...) And take into consideration over 4,000 years of winemaking history, it's a wonder... A sometimes confusing wonder... So, we've split things up a bit, according to region... And for the curious, the varietal is listed below each selection in parentheses...

PORTUGAL

In the past decade and half, there has been a renaissance of sorts in Portugal. No longer tethered by outdated and constrictive wine laws of the past, growers and producers have started to diversify from traditional fortified wines into dynamic and unique still wines. In these wines, you will find traditional Port varieties (Touriga Nacional, Touriga Franca, Tinta Barroca, Trincadeira) being showcased as still wines, and often blended with more “mainstream” grapes (Cabernet Sauvignon, Syrah). Needless to say, these are wines that are as exciting as they are original. And yes, they are hard to pronounce, but rather easy to enjoy...

Beer

Sure, we're a wine bar—but we're enthusiastic about the brewed liquids as well...
A frothy, bubbly, refreshing, sometimes burpy beverage—tasty as an apéritif or a unique and fun change to pair with our food. (We do have pizzas on the menu, after all...)
